Advice on Life, Love, and Lemons

"You have been giving advice for many years to teen agers, adolescents, and older people," remarked a friend of mine the other day. "Don't you ever get tired of it? When people refuse to take your suggestions, doesn't it make you sort of blue?"

Time and again I get questions of this type asked about my work. "How did you ever get into it?" is probably the most frequently repeated question I get. So let me answer that one first. I have been teaching for more than thirty years. During that time you can learn a lot from boys and girls, from young men and women, and from their parents. In addition I have done specialized studies in those subjects which I have felt would better enable me to give sounder advice.

Why do we want advice in the first place? If we definitely knew that what we were doing is the correct thing, and that a given result would follow, then actually we would have no need for advice. Actually, we want advice because a doubt exists in the mind and we feel that somebody with more experience can help us. In this sense, the desire for advice covers the entire field of human relationships. Two men are on a fishing boat. During the past two hours one fisherman has caught fifteen flounders. The other hasn't even had a nibble.

"Anything wrong with what I am doing?" asks the fellow without a catch to his name.

The man next to him may or may not be able to give him the correct advice. That depends upon his own knowledge; his ability to diagnose what is wrong; and the way in which he can make a suggestion to correct the difficulty. The hooks may be of the wrong kind; they may be too high on the line; the wrong weight in a sinker may be one cause; the wrong kind of bait may also be another cause; the entire fishing outfit may not be suitable for this kind of fishing; or the fisherman may not be concentrating on what he is doing.

A lot of my advice centers around what best can be called: "Love". As a wit once remarked, "The most important topic of which boys think of is Girls; the most important topic of which girls think of is Boys." Within limits that is true. I prefer the statement of Father J. A. O'Brien: "No other decision which a person is ever called upon to make involves consequences of a farther-reaching character than that entailed in the selection of a helpmate for life." For here you have the climax of the boy-meets-girl situation. Has the right boy met the right girl?

Actually the teen ager boy wants a lot of advice on what to do in his relationships with girls. And the reverse is actually true. Let us take a couple of situations. They may seem familiar to you. No confidences are violated in what I tell you.

Phil is sixteen. He goes to high school. He met Janice and would like to take her out.

"But what do I do?" he demanded. "I get three bucks a week allowance from pop. I work after school and make ten dollars. It costs a lot of money to take a girl out these days. My bank roll can't stand that strain."

Sound advice can be given. But Phil must realize his ego will be hurt a little. He likes to think of himself as a "big shot." Now he has to face realities. Swallow his pride and talk it over with Janice. True, he doesn't want her to think he is a "cheapskate." But money does not grow on trees. This situation is important. Is Janice going out with a boy because he can show her a good time or because she likes him a little? Also Phil has to learn that the amount of money you spend doesn't necessarily imply having a wonderful time. A lot of things can be done free: Going on a hike; visiting a museum; watching a television show; or going to an open school dance. Other things can be done on a limited budget: The ice cream soda; the hot dog and coke; the local movie house; or a visit to a reasonably priced restaurant.

Sometimes advice is merely a way of comforting a person and helping them to get the correct view about a situation. Ted met Alice in junior high school. Yes, he followed tradition and carried her books. They sat together in the lunch room. Then they went to the same high school. He began to have dreams in which the future looked very rosy. But when he was sixteen and she was sixteen, something happened. Alice regarded herself as a young lady and Ted was now a kid. He was hurt. Why did it have to happen to him? He became interested when he learned it happened to many other boys. Not any fault of his own. He had to learn girls develop somewhat differently from boys. Just now he isn't heartbroken. He is on the rifle team.

Elaine has a problem that looks tough. It concerns the senior prom. She wants to go with HEAVY LEGS!

She Once Had

Now Has Slender Hips, Thighs, Knees, Calves and Ankles!

↑ AFTER

Look at the firmer, slender curves of her legs now. She writes that the change was apparent even before she finished this method.

← BEFORE

Miss B. S. had heavy, flabby legs, was self-conscious because her legs spoiled her entire figure.

"ALL AROUND GLAMOUR LEGS" HELP WOMEN IN EVERYTHING THEY DO

Most figure experts agree that heavy legs spoil an otherwise shapely figure — while nicely slenderized limbs add an appearance of over-all beauty to even the heavy and average figure. Because the legs are the one part of the body which always shows, glamorous legs help you look better in any clothes you wear — dresses, skirts, sports and play clothes, bathing suits, etc. They make you a more desirable dance partner and help you do the latest steps more gracefully. Well-formed, firm legs help you in all sports; then enable you to swim, skate, bowl, play tennis, etc., with more ease and better form. They help you walk and stand with ease, with the posture which always wins admiration. Removing excess flabbiness and strengthening your legs will give you more energy for work or play; help lessen fatigue, especially when your job or housework keeps you on your feet.

"As You Can See, There is a Decided Difference... I Can't Thank You Enough"
—writes Miss B. S., Flushing, N.Y.

The most encouraging news for women with fat, flabby legs has just been revealed by Henry Milchstein, Ph.T. If your heavy legs are due to normal causes and you haven't any disease or pathological condition, you should try to attain the slender, alluring legs you've always wanted. This well-known physiotherapist, who was President of the Metropolitan School of Physiotherapy, has an enviable record of helping lovely stage and screen actresses as well as women like yourself to mold beautiful legs. Over a period of over 30 years, he has used an amazingly natural method which is unsurpassed by anything we have ever seen.

ORDINARY METHODS FOUND TO HELP LITTLE IN SLENDERIZING HEAVY LEGS
Many women engaged in improper strenuous exercises and calisthenics used up a lot of time and energy but it did next to nothing for concentrating on trimming down heavy legs.

Other women actually tried reducing diets alone to slenderize heavy legs. Since a weight reducing diet cannot be made to take weight off any single part of your body, you may lose weight everywhere but in your legs. And if your legs lost a little weight, no drug or diet can normalize and firm the entire contour, which would remain flabby. This method does concentrate on slenderizing each section of your legs from the hips to the ankles.

IN MANY CASES DOCTORS ADVISE USE OF THIS TECHNIQUE

This progressive scientific method for slenderizing heavy legs is based on the knowledge and experience of the medical profession, physiotherapists and famous body contour experts throughout the world.

Your heavy flabby legs are usually caused by fatty layers and too much muscle tissue which stretch the muscles of your legs and cause them to bulge.

To help correct this condition properly, you should try this scientific system planned to concentrate on each section of your legs, help break down fatty layers and extra bulging muscle tissue and help strengthen and normalize the muscle tone which makes the contour of the legs more normal, firm, slender and attractive. When each section of the leg has its proper normal shape, the bulging hips possess streamlined, youthful lines which men admire, the flabby thighs are trimmed down into an attractive contour, ugly knees are daintily shaped without puffed-up pouches of flesh, the heavy calves take on more slenderized, alluring curves and even the heavy ankles show sleek, graceful lines.
